If everything is made up of atoms and they are electric then is everything electric? The known universe is made of 99% plasma and plasma is an ionised (electrically charged) gas. Is the Universe Electric?

All the stars including our sun are made of plasma; the “vacuum” of space is plasma; lightning is plasma; the Solar wind is a solar plasma wind. Nearly EVERYTHING is plasma. So is it an Electric Universe?

Electromagnetic forces are everywhere and perhaps everything. You cannot have a magnetic field without some form of electrical energy. Its an electromagnetic force.

Space Tornadoes = Circuit Between Sun/Earth

Did you know that the solar plasma wind accelerates the further it gets away from the sun? On earth we accelerate electrically charged particles using electromagnetic forces. For example CERN. Why and how does the solar plasma wind increase its speed? Gravity should pull it back. Our space scientists did not predict this but a chap in 1903 did. George Woodard Warder predicted space tornadoes in a book called The Universe: A Vast Electric Organism.

NASA have discovered that the Sun and the Earth connect every 8 minutes with monstrous space tornadoes, twisting Birkeland currents of plasma acting as a wire with the current moving at over 1 million mph. These space tornadoes are one part of the connection between the Sun and the Earth plugging in around the auroras.

Spacequakes And Plasma Bombs

Spacequakes and plasma bombs cause and trigger the Earths auroras. Spacequakes themselves are mainly caused by a fast plasma jet on the nightside of the earth. The plasma in our magnetotail is accelerated against the flow of the solar plasma wind. This process causes our magnetic field lines to vibrate. Also energy is exchanged at the polar regions and combined these create the auroras where the space tornadoes touch down on Earth.

Electric Universe = Circuits. No Circuits = No EU Theory

If it is an Electric Universe then you must have circuits between everything. No circuits = No Electric Universe. At the north polar region – where the space tornadoes (Birkeland currents) bring the electrically charged plasma and the Spacequakes release their energy – you have the Earth's Space Fountain accelerated and ejecting plasma up into space.

These are large natural wires, currents and exchanges in the Earths global electric weather circuits. Other planets and moons in our solar system have their own variations of Space Fountains.

The Electric Universe Theory is simply that. The Universe is Electric. Space scientists are surprised about most things they find. A good theory should predict or explain what they find. Remember this every time you read about how amazed they are, never expecting to find what they do; back to the drawing board.

| Everything is electricity.” ~ Nikola Tesla

But the Electric Universe Theory is not just about space. That is the first obvious subject it covers but if everything in life is electric then it connects with everything else. From the gEUology \(Electric Universe geology\) of the planets to our myths, legends and modern day beliefs including the Akashic Records and God(s).
